Glen Coombs and Anel Coombs make an amazing team. I have mostly worked with Glen who has patiently teased out the mess that was my financial books and turned them into something I can actually use to run my business.

I can now see everything tracking in my business, past and present and I can use it to budget and plan for growth as well as to troubleshoot and fine tune.

Glen not only puts all of my data on amazing spreadsheets and graphs but also interprets it for me and teaches me how to interpret it as well. He is there, almost instantly to answer a question, or to help me make decisions based on the numbers.

He actually manages to make it fun. I now really look forward to watching it all happen in real time. Glen has years of experience in businesses of all sizes, which allows him a common-sense approach to business but with a very human touch.

Anel Coombs has many talents which she graciously and generously shares. I have received spot-on advice on marketing and promotion plus general presentation. I look forward to learning much more as we go along.

Working with Gabcor has helped me turn my vocation into a functional, award-winning business. I would recommend them to anyone, anytime.
